Last Monday about 25 from this town went to Bradford to hear the Progressive speaker. They were interested though all were not convinced. There appears to be considerable interest in the Progressive party in this town, as one realizes when he enters the places where the men gather. This is also made noticeable by the handsome flag and the fine oyster supper which the members of this party had in charge, and yet there are many who prefer to see President Taft re-elected or Gov. Wilson elected.

GIFFORD PINCHOT IN BRADFORD.

The Progressives of the town brought to Bradford on Monday afternoon their second speaker, a man of ability and National reputation, Mr. Gifford Pinchot, the recognized leader of conservation in this country. Scheduled to speak at two, he appeared on the hotel piazza shortly after three. About four hundred including a large number of school children, had congregated in the square and on the adjacent bank, drawn there by the personality of the speaker, probably, as much as by the principles of the party he represents. He was introduced by Dr. W. S. Cole and spoke rapidly and earnestly, paying the usual attention to the two great parties which do not accept Mr. Roosevelt as the only true pilot. He dismissed Mr. Taft as being a negligible factor in the situation whose hope of re-election long ago disappeared; and he touched lightly on Mr. Wilson's fitness for the high office, saying that he was untried in this field, although he had served eighteen months as Governor of New Jersey and had taken no action against the trusts in this home of the trusts. The only course open was to put Theodore Roosevelt back in the White House, when all things would be regulated in a providential manner. He complimented the Republican party on its glorious achievements and its more useful past and in those days he, as well as most of the other Progressives, had worked through this channel; but now the party was old, the times demand a new party, and he intimated that mostly the honest Republicans had become Progressives. Like all the other campaign speakers of all the parties the last week of the fight, his cause was bound to win at the polls. When Mr. Pinchot came to the conservation part of his talk he was sure of an interested audience. He is a pioneer in the work. He is certainly disinterested in his attempt to conserve our natural resources, and as a millionaire he has spent both time and money in the cause. He has had the satisfaction of having many of his ideas adopted and of seeing this vast work well begun, and the people are becoming educated to its advantages through the forestry publicity campaign. Mr. Pinchot gave interesting facts as well as figures concerning not only the forests of the land, but the water power possibilities and our mineral wealth. He knows whereof he spoke, because of his study and personal observation in every region where forestry is a live topic of interest. It was a real treat to the people of Bradford to see and hear the man who above all others, stands for the great economic principle of preventing waste—conservation of all natural resources.

Cost of Living.

The official government report shows that the high cost of living is almost equal to the cost of high living—Chicago Inter Ocean.

Now that a government commission has made an exhaustive examination and reported thereon, the public suspicion that the cost of living is high has been confirmed.—Philadelphia Ledger.

It is true living costs more than it used to. The federal bureau of labor has issued a report confirming the rumor. We had hoped the story might at last have turned out to have been unfounded.—Chicago Record-Herald.

The Oil in Cloves.

Cloves are simply the dried flower buds of a beautiful evergreen tree growing naturally on the Spice Islands. These flower buds are gathered when they have become of a bright red and are just on the point of opening. The name comes from the resemblance of the prepared spice to small nails, from the French word clou, for nail. Cloves are very heavily charged with a pungent, acrid, volatile oil, as much as 20 per cent sometimes being extracted. This oil is valuable for flavoring and scenting purposes and has a limited field in medicine, but the habit of "eating cloves," in which young folks and too often old ones indulge, is very reprehensible, as the oil is a powerful drug, becoming in many cases an insidious poison.

The Theater of Dionysus.

What was probably one of the earliest theaters built was the theater of Dionysus, which was begun five centuries before Christ. The seating capacity of this remarkable building is said to have been 30,000. The theater of Dionysus was erected when Greek art and literature were in their prime. Here were presented to appreciative spectators the wonderful works of Aeschylus, Sophocles and Euripides.

River Road.

Joe Lawrence is now able to be out and to do a little light work.

Mrs. Sarah Jenkins of Bradford, made a short visit with Mrs. Robinson last week.

Mrs. Grace Blaisdell and children spent the week-end with her parents in East Haverhill.

Quite a number on our road availed themselves of the opportunity to hear Gifford Pinchot, at Bradford, Monday afternoon. We feel that all were impressed with the sincerity of purpose, that laid behind the short, but to the point speech he made, in which he set forth the causes and the ideals of the Progressive Party. Whichever way he may be politically inclined, we think all who heard or talked with our former Chief Forester must have perceived that he was a gentleman, in the highest sense of that term.

We are sorry to hear of one of our town industries about to close up business for lack of support, the Peoples' Co-operative Creamery. Just another instance of the farmers having no real co-operative spirit among them, and going to the highest bidder, regardless of the principles involved.

GRAFTON-ORANGE ASSOCIATION.

Annual meeting of Grafton-Orange Association of Congregational Churches met in the First Congregational Church in Haverhill, Oct. 17, 18, 1912.

Ministers with four delegates from Lisbon at the north to West Lebanon on the south, Wentworth at the east to West Newbury over the river, on the west, met in very large numbers on Thursday morning.

Commencing with Devotional Service, Rev. G. E. French, Moderator, W. L. Bond, Scribe, after which: Business, Reports of Committees—Advisory, Ministerial, Standing and Benevolence were reported, Mrs. E. H. Underhill read a very interesting essay on How the Minister of today can be an Inspirational Speaker.

Luncheon was served at high noon in the Chapel to about 70 guests.

After the Devotional Period at half past one, a report of Special Committee on Educational Work was received. Rev. John Cowan discussed The Educational Function of the Pulpit, followed by Prof. C. D. Adams of Dartmouth, The Educational Work of the Church aside from that of the Pulpit. Prof. Adams displayed several books from Pilgrim Press on a nearby table, dealing with subject A Past Education.

The demand for the training of Teachers and the way to meet them by Miss Alice E. Bacon, and the Actual Work one Teacher is Doing by Mrs. C. R. Taggart were very helpful.

The well-known Rev. G. W. Guttererson told us how the work of education for Home Missions could be carried out by cleaning out our back yards and keeping the 'Ship' America in order. Communion of the Lord's Supper was administered by Rev. C. E. Hitchcock and Rev. A. R. Crewe.

After supper in Chapel Praise Service followed by address, Spiritual Efficiency by our Superintendent E. R. Smith, Concord, N. H.

Some Fundamental Needs in our Churches Today by Rev. D. I. Gross, Nashua, N. H.

After the Devotional Period the next morning and Business, Our Congregational Policy opened, by Rev. H. H. Wentworth, What is it, Where did it come from and Where is it going, was well discussed by a good number with deep feeling. Rev. E. K. Stearns of Lancaster, N. H., made a stirring appeal to our hearts and wallets, for the aged Ministers families in their hour of need. Several deep sentimental prayers in perfect harmony with October balmy pleasant days and good travelling closed a very interesting session.

Much credit is due to the ladies of Haverhill for their cordial expressions of Haverhill old times hospitality. Haverhill beautiful homes were opened freely to many guests and a warm welcome awaited the fellow churches. This was the most fully attended conference in many years.
